BRAND POSITIONING

← RETURN TO TABLE OF CONTENTS

Our belief, It's Possible at Pitt, is supported by our brand purpose, which was derived from the insights from our robust quantitative and qualitative research conducted in support of the brand refresh. This sits atop four brand pillars—the core beliefs that undergird Pitt's brand purpose—which are guided by our personality traits and tone. These components bolster the creative platform, Hail to Possible, by which all creative work should be inspired.

Our Pillars

OUR PLACE

There is a vibe in the city of Pittsburgh, and it can be felt on every one of our campuses—one where a tight-knit community allows individuals to feel like they have a stake in their community and in defining their futures. Here, we tap into an ever-evolving history and energy of upward mobility to provide every student with access to any opportunity they wish to pursue.

OUR PEOPLE

There's a reason you just read the word "people" over and over again. That's who we're inspired by; who we collaborate with; and, ultimately, who we're here to serve. Whether we're giving back to the community, making a networking introduction or creating a vaccine that will impact millions, we don't do this for rankings or awards. We are moved to help others.

OUR CULTURE

Here, a culture of connection and collaboration is multiplied by the intimacy of our locations and the interdisciplinary nature of our schools. We have access to everything, including people of all backgrounds who open doors to opportunities you can't get anywhere else.

OUR IMPACT

We've reimagined how a university and its community work together, rediscovered how cells regenerate, rethought how experiences drive academic success. Reinvention has always been in our DNA and will continue to be for generations to come.

Our Personality

Our Creative Platform

Hail to Possible

for alumni and donors.

No matter who we're speaking to, our voice should always be grounded and approachable.

Our Personality

Inquisitive
We are serially curious, always asking questions and challenging norms.

Transformative
The work being done here goes beyond theoretical; it has real-world implications and impact.

Approachable
We have a friendly spirit where everyone, no matter their status or accomplishments, is seen as a peer.

Collaborative
Our city and spaces are curated to bring people and disciplines together.

Determined
We are just as hardworking as we are curious. We get things done.

Create more visually compelling compositions by using the framing device and layering type, using scale for emphasis. You also can allow photography to interact with design elements.

Advanced

At its most advanced, the brand employs dynamic compositions and layouts, using multiple design elements in harmony. This includes the use of multiple photos and frames, layered type, varied scales and the strategic use of negative space, enhanced by design flourishes such as nodes. This approach creates visually rich and engaging designs.
